Snapchat Automation Safety Checklist

A Pickzox exclusive bonus for Loreever.AI Snap Toolkit buyers.
Use automation helpers without risking your account.

Automation tools operate in a gray area of Snapchat's platform rules. This checklist does not guarantee safety - no checklist can - but following it keeps your risk as low as responsibly possible.

Before you automate anything

- [ ] Read Snapchat's current Terms of Service section on automation and spam. Rules change; re-check every few months.
- [ ] Never automate on an account you cannot afford to lose. Consider a separate account for high-volume workflows.
- [ ] Understand that no vendor can guarantee account safety - anyone who promises it is lying.
- [ ] Keep the extension updated and re-check compatibility after Snapchat Web updates.

Pacing principles

- [ ] Start slow: low volumes for the first days, increase gradually only if nothing is flagged.
- [ ] Use generous intervals between actions - machine-gun timing is the fastest way to get flagged.
- [ ] Take breaks: do not run automation 24/7. Human patterns include pauses, nights, and weekends.
- [ ] Never run multiple automation tools on the same account simultaneously.

Content rules

- [ ] Only message people who already have a relationship with you (existing conversations, opted-in contacts).
- [ ] Never send unsolicited bulk messages or spam - against the terms and harmful to recipients.
- [ ] Always verify the recipient before starting Auto Sender. One wrong conversation can cause real harm.
- [ ] Personalize: use the recipient's name and context. Identical repeated messages look automated because they are.

Human in the loop

- [ ] Review what the tool did after every session - check sent messages for errors.
- [ ] Keep the stop control within reach and use it the moment something looks wrong.
- [ ] If Snapchat shows any warning, captcha, or temporary limit: STOP immediately and wait at least 48 hours.

If something goes wrong

- [ ] Stop all automation at the first sign of trouble - do not try to 'push through' a restriction.
- [ ] Do not create replacement accounts to evade a restriction (ban evasion makes things worse).
- [ ] Contact the vendor's support (support@loreever.ai) about tool issues, and Snapchat support about account issues - separately and honestly.
