KDP Kids Activity Book Launch Checklist

From first generated page to a published KDP book — 10 steps.

#	Step	What to do
1	Pick your theme and age band first.	Choose one theme (animals, letters, seasons) and one age band (2-3, 4-5, or 5-6) before you generate a single page.
2	Generate 10 test pages.	Make a small batch first. Review each page for garbled letters, wrong counts, and off-topic pictures.
3	Run the quality checks.	Use the pack's quality-check prompts on every test page. Fix errors with the fix-it prompts before you scale up.
4	Lock one visual style.	Fix your colors, headings, and borders now, so all pages look like one book instead of ten different books.
5	Build the full interior.	Aim for 40 to 60 pages for a standard activity book, or your own target page count. Keep the difficulty mixed.
6	Generate and verify the answer keys.	Make the answer-key pages, then check each key against its activity. A wrong answer is worse than no answer.
7	Design the cover and title page.	Build the cover last, once the interior style is set. Test the title at thumbnail size — that is how buyers see it.
8	Assemble and check the layout.	Put the interior together in your layout tool. Check margins, bleed, and print-safe areas on every page.
9	Review a proof before you publish.	Order a KDP proof copy, or go through the digital preview page by page. Never publish an unchecked interior.
10	Price it, describe it, publish it.	Set your price, write a keyword-rich KDP description, and publish. Then open the live listing and check it.

Free bonus from Pickzox — created to go with the 321 Preschool Kids Activity Prompt Pack review.