Etsy & KDP Listing Checklist for Printable Playsets

List your finished Nativity Playset Studio set on Etsy and your book on Amazon KDP without missing a step — photos, wording, disclosure, pricing and print checks.

Before you list — build checks

■	Print the one-page test at 100% and confirm the adult figure is 4.5 in / 11.4 cm tall.
■	Build one full set and photograph it standing up — real photos, not mock-ups.
■	Check every sheet for style mismatches; redo any figure that does not match the set.
■	For KDP: rewrite the read-aloud story in your own words to avoid duplicate content.
■	Glue one figure to card and test how sturdy it stands — note it in the listing.

Etsy listing — what to include

■	Title: name the set, the piece count (48 pieces) and that it is a printable PDF.
■	Photos: the finished set standing up, the stable backdrop, the coloring version, and a size photo next to a ruler.
■	Your own instructions: print, cut, fold, glue — written in your own words.
■	AI disclosure: state that the artwork was made with an AI image tool.
■	What buyers need: a printer, paper, scissors and glue — say so plainly.
■	Sturdiness note: paper works; glued to card the figures stand sturdier for play.
■	File details: PDF, US Letter and A4, instant download after purchase.

KDP book — what to include

■	Page count checked: a full set builds about 52 pages; a coloring edition needs 24 or more.
■	Full-wrap cover sized to your exact page count (the Studio works this out for you).
■	Description: mention the 48 pieces, the read-aloud story and the play script.
■	Keywords: nativity playset, printable nativity, Christmas playset, paper nativity.
■	Preview the book before you publish — check every cut-out page and the cover spine.

Pricing checks

Compare your price with similar printable nativity sets on Etsy before you list. Remember the buyer still needs a printer and paper, so price the files fairly. For KDP, check the print cost for your page count before you set the book price.
